

Find Myself

Lucy Rose

Find, find yourself and make it count
Take, take your time and don't lose sight
Of why we're here and who we want to be

These, these are words you told me once
Now, now I really know their worth
It's everyone together, you and me

'Cause I find myself
I find myself in new company
Now I find myself
I find myself within your old dreams

Make, make me laugh and make me cry
Open, open up my tender eyes
And make me see myself for who I am

'Cause I find myself
I find myself in new company
Now I find myself
I find myself within your old dreams

A life changed in an instant
And here we are drinking
I wish I had some way to make it more than just okay
Forsake it
It's times like these I wonder
"What the hell is going on?"

But you helped me find myself
'Cause I found myself in your company
Now I find myself
I find myself in new company
Yeah, you helped me find myself
'Cause I found myself within your old dreams

Change, change my heart and make it new
Born, born again, my thoughts renewed
I know just where I'm going to go
I know just where I'm going, you have let me
