

Thank You For Bringing Me Here

Luka Bloom

I walk with my father in Fanore
We walk hand in hand by the shore
The sun sets beyond Inisheer
I thank you for bringing me here

My father and mother love me
We're living our lives by the sea
Sometimes when my parents stand near
I thank you for bringing me here

I know that I am wanted in this world
So I will grow up an Irish girl
I won't pretend my world knows no fear
But I thank you for bringing me here

Where the limestone slopes down to the sea
Where my father walks tall, proud and free
Where the birdsong is music to my ear
I thank you for bringing me here
I thank you for bringing me here
I thank you for bringing me here
