

Give Me Your Pain

Luke Christopher

Give me all of your pain
And I'll promise that
I'll make sure it stays away
It won't get out of yesterday
All your pain
And I'll promise that
I'll make sure it stays away
It won't get out of yesterday

It's like, don't give a fuck and they love you
Or do give a fuck and they hate you
I feel like I'm staring at all of my idols
And looking at me like we played you
Who in the hell do I fight for?
What in the hell do I write for?
Is it bitches or hearts that need stitches?
And what I am saying this all in a mic for?
They like, "Luke why you sound like you're desperate?"
I'm like, "Fuck it, my nigga, I am"
I just spend too much time up in the studio
I should be runnin' around, hittin' the town
All of the money I spend on the videos
All of the liquor I put in the pretty ones
All of the people I put in the past
Look for the people you know that'll last

And I, I've made enough mistakes, I know it's true
I'm always gon' be there for you
If you always gon' be there for me
I'm always gon' be there for you
Like I'm always gon' be there for you
Like I'm always gon' be there for you
Like I'm always gon' be there for you
