

MARRIED PPL

Luke Christopher

Got a new found new love, for the married people
Tell me how you put up with them, underneath everybody is evil
Gotta pick your friends, golden retrievers
While I can't even love someone, without wanting to leave'em

Is it really that good?
(That good)
Uh, is it everything you wanted?
Somebody always there...
When you wake up in the morning

Got a new found new love, for the married people
Tell me how you put up with them, underneath everybody is evil
Gotta pick your friends, golden retrievers
While I can't even love someone, without wanting to leave'em

Tell me how you really feel
I need space, book a trip to eat a meal
Time and place, it don't matter if it's real
Tired of the chase, think it's time to seal the deal
But it's too fun, riding solo
Rockstar at a rock show
We getting close, so she gotta go
Show's over, I'm all alone
You probably think it's life
But, it's the attitude uh yeah
Love and respect
We speaking platitudes son yeah
It's all good, 'til they're mad you
What you did
What I do now
In the bathroom, waiting 'til you cool down
It's eaiser to get it, if only I played inadequate
It's fun in the beginning
But what happens, when you cross the finish?
You tell me this is everything
I know you must be kidding
Is you fucking kidding?

Got a new found new love, for the married people
Tell me how you put up with them, underneath everybody is evil
Gotta pick your friends, golden retrievers
While I can't even love someone, without wanting to leave'em

Got a new found new love, for the married people
Tell me how you put up with them, underneath everybody is evil
Gotta pick your friends, golden retrievers
While I can't even love someone, without wanting to leave'em

Got a new found new love, for the married people
Tell me how you put up with them, underneath everybody is evil
Gotta pick your friends, golden retrievers
While I can't even love someone, without wanting to leave'em