(I'm a creep)

It's kind of like we just all want to be involved
Life ain't really changed, man, I think it's just evolved
Find a happy place and then you try to hit the pause
But the world ain't get the memo so it's still gonna revolve
But you finally think you saw what was twisted (wrong)
Said the beat was knocking but you missed it
And now you think you're stupid cause you missed it all along
Nigga trust me you ain't alone
Saying would you really know me if I switched the tone
And nowadays your biggest homie is your fuckin' phone
Oh yeah that nigga that you love that's my walkin' clone
Made him in a week
And rappers say a lot of shit, but rarely do they speak

I'm a creep
I'm a weirdo
What the hell am I doing here
I don't belong here

Good morning computer
Association with you used to be called a loser
A nerd, a geek, but now it's just a teen
Any word, you speak, anybody can read
And it's hard not to peek
The one and only girl you've ever thought was damn gorgeous is single and finally
Send her a message, then she replies
Saying come to my party this Friday night
Yo today's going to be crazy, I should tweet about it
Tweet about her beauty but I never speak about it
If she want it she could get it, she should send a friend requ st
You want more of something you should think about it less

I'm a creep
I'm a weirdo
What the hell am I doing here
I don't belong here
