Changing

Luke Evans

I think I broke myself
Far beyond help
More than I'd ever admit
I know you blame it all
Back on yourself trying to bend just to fit

Oh, don't go changing just for me
No, don't go changing just for me
Cause whatever I said
Whatever I did you know I didn't mean
Oh, don't go changing just for me

You don't have to speak just to break the silence
Don't have to cry just to make me weak
Don't have to stand when the walls are shaking
Don't have to lie just to make me believe
Oh, don't go changing just for me

I've ruined every chance
I've ever had without ever skipping a beat
You're there to hold my hand
Time and again
Forgetting who you wanna be

Oh, don't go changing just for me
No, don't go changing just for me
Cause whatever I said
Whatever I did you know I didn't mean
Oh, don't go changing just for me

You don't have to speak just to break the silence
Don't have to cry just to make me weak
Don't have to stand when the walls are shaking
Don't have to lie just to make me believe
Don't have to shout just to make me listen
Don't have to hurt just to make me feel
Don't have to crash when my world is burning
Don't have to lie just to make me believe

Oh, don't go changing just for me
You're the one that I lean on to guide me
You're the one I'd follow to the end
Never learn from my bad intentions
Need you to make me a better man

Whatever I said
Whatever I did
You know I didn't mean

You don't have to speak just to break the silence
Don't have to cry just to make me weak
Don't have to stand when my walls are shaking
You don't have to lie just to make me believe

Oh, don't go changing just for me
Oh, just don't change a single thing
