

Oh Ohio

Luke Grimes

Have you always been this bitter?
Have you always been this cold?
Or have I just been gone too long gettin' bought and sold?
Did someone steal your sunshine?
Have you always been this gray?
I don't know if it's me or it's you, but one of us has changed

Ooh, oh-oh, it's been nice to know ya
I guess it's time I get on down the road
When you're forgettin' me, crucify my memory
I know I'll believe Ohio

Oh-oh-oh-hio

I remember you, the way you used to be
Before they parked the trains
On the tracks of the parking lots due east
I could stay a little longer
And try to find the spark
But I'd be like them fireflies
Burned out in them jars
Guess we are who we are

Ooh, oh-oh, it's been nice to know ya
I guess it's time I get on down the road
When you're forgettin' me, crucify my memory
'Cause know I'll believe Ohio

Oh-oh-oh-hio

When you're forgettin' me, crucify my memory
Just know I'll believe Ohio
Oh-oh-oh-hio
