

Close Enough To Feel You

Luke Hemmings

I don't know what to say
I wanna be the last dream inside your head
Time is running away
As I watch Los Angeles from bed
When life is nothing but pain
I wanna be the white lines inside your face
Think you're more than a friend
Can you drive me home?

Now I'm falling apart again
Now I'm falling apart again
I just wanna be close enough to feel you
But the pain is so familiar
Now I'm falling apart again
Now I'm falling apart again
I just wanna be close enough to feel you
But the pain is so familiar
Now I'm falling apart again
Apart again
Apart again
Now I'm falling apart

I don't want to be here
As I close my eyes, the canyon steers
Think I'm losing the year
As you turn and say

Honey, this is a good life
Do you see it?
I can see me in your eyes
Do you mean it?

Now I'm running under water
I can't make a sound
It's drowning, it's drowning me out

But now I'm falling apart again
Now I'm falling apart again
I just wanna be close enough to feel you
But the pain is so familiar
Now I'm falling apart again
Now I'm falling apart again
I just wanna be close enough to feel you
But the pain is so familiar
Now I'm falling apart
Apart

Now I'm running under water
I can't make a sound
I'm running under water
It's drowning me out

Apart, apart again

Now I'm running under water
I can't make a sound
I'm running under water

Now I'm falling apart again
Apart again
Now I'm falling apart again
This life is so familiar, falling apart
