Luke Hemmings

Here in the shadow
Of all that's said and done
The love that you borrowed
In the morning's come and gone

You run from tomorrow
But the madness catches up
The pain from the window
Yeah, it all keeps stacking up

This is all we are, we are
This is all we are

You seem so damn familiar
But I just can't place the name
You're staring in a mirror
But your face won't stay the same
Been waiting for so long but the moment never came
If life's a game of inches, how'd you get miles away?
Away

Hand to the Bible
But my wrongs stay still in place
Lost in the rubble
But the house stands all the same

You bet on the sorrow
Now your heart is overrun
You fear what you don't know
Tell me what have I become

This is all we are, we are
This is all we are

You seem so damn familiar
But I just can't place the name
You're staring in a mirror
But your face won't stay the same
Been waiting for so long but the moment never came
If life's a game of inches, how'd you get miles away?
Away

Leave me in the dark, leave me in the dark
Tell me what to see, tell me what to see
Let it fall apart, let it fall apart
Living on repeat

Leave me in the dark, leave me in the dark
Tell me what to see, tell me what to see
Let it fall apart, let it fall apart
Living on repeat
