

Tornado Town

Luke Sital-Singh

Nothing has changed
We're still the same

The walls are torn down
The car is in flames
The house is no more
So we'll just start again

Nothing has changed
We're still the same
Picking up pieces of old photo frames
Together we'll just start again

We'll be strong
Cause the end of the world it means nothing at all

We'll carry on
And when all I have left is your hand
I am home
We can start over again

Everything's changed
Nothing's the same
I can see parts of the bed that we made
Scattered for miles just taken away
We can start over again

We'll be strong
Cause the end of the world it means nothing at all

We'll carry on
And when all I have left is your hand
I am home
We can start over again

Nothing has changed
We're still the same
The walls are torn down
The car is in flames
But we can start over again

We'll be strong
Cause the end of the world it means nothing at all

We'll carry on
And when all I have left is your hand
I am home
We can start over again
