

Kill The Witch

LUNA KILLS

Hello, hello, new life all blue and dark
With the radio on it's quiet, I can't hear the lies
I can write now but it's too depressing to sing, I always loved the side of me
Who embraced nothing

In the dark I can't see your eyes, the screams surround
Kill the witch

I love your eyes they have seen me a thousand times
In the pitch black I hear her cry
There's broken glass on my veins, her soul becomes the prey
They love to taste my pain

I don't care what's good for me, In this life I'm never free
Kill the witch
