Hello darkness, hello sunshine, hello not at all, hello all the time
Hello no where, hello oblivion, hello goodbye

Hello Darkness
You (6x)

All in together the weather is better than ever
I hope it never ends I hope it lasts forever
But when it does, we can all pretend that it's better than it's ever been
Lie to ourselves like the sky to rebel
And its well and its fine and its fine if it fell
And you couldn't find the story line if you survive to retell
We are targets, Hello darkness

Said everything is going to be fine
Said everything is gonna be OK
Said just don't breathe the air

He just sits and waits for them to kick in the door
He once was a hero they don't love him no more
There's a blast, every time a foot hits the floor
His gift for not fighting another man's war
And if they can get their hands on the mask that he wore
On his face, they can put somebody else in his place and restore
The state, the illusion that its safe the faith, that being a slave is so great
As gas fills the room and rockets destroy everything around him
He stands to find himself surround
By thousands of soldiers that his once trained to never miss their ta rgets
Heartless, Hello Darkness

Hello Darkness

Please to make your acquaintance
Salutations, Konnichiwa
Hello end of the world, how are you, I'm fine

Hey there darkness, hey there sunshine, hello not at all, hello all the time
Hello no where, hello oblivion, hello goodbye

Hello darkness, hello sunshine
