

Be Okay

Lute

Some days I can't explain what I'm feeling
I need space, some days I need healing, some days I need love
My anxiety be as high as the ceiling, I just wanna breath
Can't explain what I need, my mind movin' fast
I just wanna build but shit never last
Is it me or all my shit in my past?
Punching L like Tray but had to take some jazz
Like them left a scab, gotta keep a tab
Shit won't hold me back 'cause I found peace within Focus on myself but still be checking in Hard to call on certain friends whilst we closing in Life's a bitch, I know, I understand
You can call me if you need a hand
Life's a bitch, I know, I understand

Even when the light goes dark, I confined in you
I tell you that I'm going through some shit and you tell me that you
goingthrough it too
I say even when the light goes dark, I confined in you
To tell me it's gonna be okay, 'cause we gonna make it through

Lately I've been selfish with myself more
Then again, I've been needing myself more It's some things I'm taking steps towards Like holding myself accountable, trying to press forward, shit
But not to say that I'm holding me back
Just some things that be keeping me trapped
Like overthinking so I cope with drinking
Drowning in my sauce like the ship was sinking Told my cousin when I get home, shit you know we linking My nigga told me when I get back, drop them tracks, they fiendin'
Just to lose em' both within the same weekend
Almost lost my dad, so I can't pretend
Reached out to some friends, but some people I just can't repent?
Niggas want more music, I ain't write within, the way I feel
I can't type or write on pen, had to go back east
Walls are closing in, patience running thin
I just want some wins, but shit ain't setting in
So I reset again

Even when the light goes dark, I confined in you
I tell you that I'm going through some shit and you tell me that you
going through it too
I say even when the light goes dark, I confined in you
To tell me it's gonna be okay, 'cause we gonna make it through
Even when the light goes dark, I confined in you
I tell you that I'm going through some shit and you tell me that you
going through it too
I say even when the light goes dark, I confined in you
To tell me it's gonna be okay, 'cause we gonna make it through
