Niggas [?] I stick them, minding my business
You never walked in my shoes, who asked your opinion?
They'll judge how you get it, but fuck it, I did it
You talk it, I live it
Tables turned, niggas jellous, my life at a pivot
Slamming doors down on four, put the galaxy on sixes
Throwing folds out the window, reciting my scriptures
Left niggas in 2018, they couldn't see the picture
Now my bless is 2020, nigga, couldn't be no clearer, respec' on my name
A1 since day one, give a fuck 'bout the fame
How you say I changed when yourself ain't the same?
Niggas be lame, typing with your fingers, won't at me, my name
But lately I've been trying to keep my conscious clean
Now I'm on a bigger screen, different color schemes on the bigger things
This is how it look when you follow your dreams
This is how it look when you follow your dreams

Stuck in my ways but lately I've been in control of my own faith
Had to make a go for my own sakes
Had to see the view for my own team
Took some time, then get off my [?]

Let that sage burn, good vibes only, open a window
Courts in my corner, like I'm Thanos
Show my daughter that it's more to life than Jo-Jo [?] plato
Never taste the green to the point that you end up like Cato
I know this going over your head, but it's okay though
See me on top, but got some niggas in the cut like Fredo
I cut some niggas off I still pray for, cus' love is valid
You know silent like potato salad
I don't want it if it ain't a challenge
Best things in life never come that easy
Without you there is no me, I know that's kinda cheesy
If I told you how I felt you probly wouldn't believe me
All these years, yet you still can't find a way to see me
Who would've thought somebody kids would wanna grow up to be me
Sun on my face, while my nappy hair grow so freely
Who would've thought that I would finally love the way I see me
Who would've thought that I would finally love the way I see me

Stuck in my ways but lately I've been in control of my own faith

Had to make a go for my own sakes
