

She Was Born That Way

Luther Allison

A woman can see, she understands
How her love can change
A no good man from laying around the house
To going off to work
From a low down and dirty man
To going with her to church (and you know)

She knows just what to do
She knows just what to say
She will give you all of her love
She Was Born That Way, She Was Born That Way

And when you think that you've got her
Got her in the palm of her hand
She will slip right through your fingers
Like the blowing desert sand
She'll make you think you will
When you really want to say you won't
She'll make you mind the children
While she goes anywhere she wants

She knows just what to do
She knows just what to say
She will give you all of her love
She Was Born That Way, She Was Born That Way

There is nothing you can do
There is nothing you can say
You might as well admit it
She Was Born That Way, She Was Born That Way

She knows just what to do
She knows just what to say
She will give you all of her love
She Was Born That Way, She Was Born That Way
