

Blushing

Luvcat

You got me blushing, baby
Every night
The blood is rushing, baby
But that's alright

Stroking my rosy red cheek
Making my knees get weak
Sipping your drink
Saying with a wink
The origin of the world is pink

I want you to hold me
Please don't leave me lonely
Want you and you only
All to myself
I want you to hold me
Please don't leave me lonely
Want you and you only
There's not anybody else

You got me blushing, baby
Even in my sleep
No there's no running baby
When he's in your dreams

I'm eternally seventeen
When he's looking at me
You know you're fucked when He's writing in the front of
The books you're pretending to read

I want you to hold me
Please don't leave me lonely
Want you and you only
All to myself
I want you to hold me
Please don't leave me lonely
Want you and you only
There's not anybody else

I just got off my shift
Your favourite fired waitress
With the pigtails and the biggest tips
Milk teeth and arsenic lips
Rode this carousel pony like a rodeo queen
Lace and leather and skin
There's no leavin' this city
It's a movable feast
I can't get off the ferris wheel
When the circus is in me
And the band's kicking off
We'll be big in Japan
But it's just me and you in McDonald's
And you're holding my hand
In the Jacaranda basement
He's pulling me in
Oh, at every holy altar

I was dreaming of sin
But in this cruel and cunning world
I'm just lipstick and pearls
I'm just a blushing girl

I want you to hold me
Please don't leave me lonely
Want you and you only
All to myself
I want you to hold me
Please don't leave me lonely

You've got me blushing
You've got me blushing, baby
