

Surrender

Lycia

You with me in heaven
Floating like ribbon in the sea of tranquility
The perfume of your soul intoxicating
Water in cascades
Surrender
Fall with me into the arms of angels
The feather touch of kisses
Into the light forever
Tongues twist in time to oblivion
Water rising higher
And we sink into the sea
Lungs filled, smiles explode
And home again
Time stands frozen forever
And in my arms you stay
Like a baby to my breast you stay
The stars fall to earth and we catch them
The sugar of your kiss reflects them
Eyes wide like oceans vast
Inside with me chosen at last
Time in the presence of the garden never-ending
Rib fit firmly back in place
The circle complete as the skies explode
The blessing of angels cry down on us
Like diamond chips our flesh glistens
Wet and soft with the tears of the cherubim