

We Will Remain

Lynch Mob

Where does the mind go? when your thoughts all fled
When i find the words to tell you they'll be written on my sleeve

I tell to no one but i fight the morning as a silent servant, i m howling in my dreams

For your love.i find the answers hidden in my heart to believe
For your love.there is no riddle in this song you only need to say

That we will remain

I walked a mountain and a forest in between. i stood by rivers, i want the moon to be freed...
As i turn dark corners towards an angry wind, i ran through valleys only to discover...

For your love.i find the answers hidden in my heart to believe
For your love.there is no riddle in this song you only need to say

That we will remain... together... together. we will remain... together

(Solo)

I promise you this... and only this.we ...will. remain

For your love.i find the answers hidden in my heart to believe
For your love.there is no riddle in this song you only need to say

That we will remain... that we will remain... that we will remain

Together... yeah... together... we will remain
