Heavenly Sunshine

Lynn Anderson

I've search for words so many times that would best describe The thrill it gives me just to have you at my side But I can't find one single word that properly defines How sweet it is just knowing that all your love is mine Your love is heavenly sunshine heavenly sunshine You fill my heart with your sweet love so devine Heavenly sunshine heavenly sunshine You make me happy cause your love is mine

The colors in the rainbow are a lovely sight to see But even rainbows lose their glow when you smiled at me And when you kiss me I can hear a thousand bluebirds sing And no matter how it sounds the words could only mean one thing Your love is heavenly sunshine...
