M Huncho

Darling, I'm gonna build you something
Sweetie, you need something better
Let me build you something better
Heaven, it's lonely in your heaven
Sweetie, you need something better
Let me build you something better

I need a slight more rain
Nearly got my rainbow, need a slight more rain (Just a slight more rain)
I stay up 'til late, baggin' all this weed and this Kurt Cobain (And this Kurt Cocaine, yeah)
See, my daddy got a job, he's got back pain (Got back pain)
Mom's a housewife, yeah, she's sick some days (She's sick some days)
Home all day, cook all day
She didn't even know that her son was famous
I've been ten toes, sellin' Kurt Cobain (Kurt Cobain, yeah)
Very slow money and the risks gettin' greater (Risks gettin' greater)
I can't really be ashamed 'cause (Really be ashamed)
Eight years later, I'm a household name (I'm a household name)
But I missed my mum's calls for like eight months straight (Eight months str aight)
Wonder how she feelings, is her son okay (Momma, I'm okay)
Alive, is he dead? Eatin' every day (I'm eatin' every day)
I'm alive, I'm well, got some children on the way, by the way (Way, way, way
, way, way)

Darling, I'm gonna build you something
Sweetie, you need something better
Let me build you something better
Heaven, it's lonely in your heaven
Sweetie, you need something better
Let me build you something better
