

New Day

Mélée

Morning sunshine come light my life like you said you can
With the windows open, all the spirits fly away
Pull the wings off a bird who cannot fly
And I'll make you feel the pain of where she lies
'cause this is a new day for broken hands and breaking backs
This is a new day for lovers' hands and fighting hands
To finally be set free from tragedy
Morning sunshine come light my life like you said you can
And i'll give you all the time that we need now
To giure out where we can go just to be alone
And i'll watch you wash your body clean of all the things you wish you'd never seen
I cast these sotnes upon my broken hands
I cast these stones upon my back
I cast these stones upon my soul
My ghost will carry me home
Carry me into a brand new day
