

Too Good

M.O

Everything, you everything and I always thought
It was impossible to have it all
Now I'm standing here with all I won

If I should die before I wake, I pray that I still live inside of this dream
(this dream)
My mind is working all the time, I'm tryna figure out what all of this means (this means)
Cause I'm not used to bein' with someone who seems to make it all so easy
That's nothing that I couldn't do as long as I got you, I got you with me

I'm sorry that I got a lot of questions
I'm sorry, I don't mean to be rude
You shouldn't keep payin' for all that he put me through
I know it's wrong that I put it on you

I'm just sure you're too good
You're too good
You're too good to be true
There's gotta be somethin'
Be somethin' that's bad about you
I can't help but think there's something you're hiding
But really it's me, I shouldn't be thinkin'
You're too good
You're too good
You're too good to be true
So show me what's bad about you

Everything, you everything and I always thought
It was impossible to have it all
Now I'm standing here with all I won

I get past the time just looking at you, you so fine it makes me crazy (crazy)
I can't get enough, you make me blush any time that you call me baby
My love grows stronger everyday, you make be wanna stay and boy I love that I know that I'm in trouble, you gon' be there cause I always got you right back

I'm sorry that I got a lot of questions
I'm sorry, I don't mean to be rude
You shouldn't keep payin' for all that he put me through
I know it's wrong that I put it on you

I'm just sure you're too good
You're too good
You're too good to be true
There's gotta be somethin'
Be somethin' that's bad about you
I can't help but think there's something you're hiding
But really it's me, I shouldn't be thinkin'
You're too good
You're too good
You're too good to be true
So show me what's bad about you

Everything, you everything and I always thought

It was impossible to have it all
Now I'm standing here with all I won

Everything, you everything and I always thought
It was impossible to have it all
Now I'm standing here with all I won

You're too good
You're too good
You're too good to be true
So show me what's bad about you
You're too good
You're too good
You're too good to be true
And that's what I love about you
