

Lights Are On

M Row

(God stood me up)
Jelly onnat
(And I don't know why)

Ay, M Row

Why you never was real and just say how you feel you ignore me and never reply to me You hung up the phone when I peeped you was lying, like you not even saying goodbye to me How you mistaking the shit that you said to the next guy? T-
That don't apply to me You move on before me but don't even warn me, heartbreak really feel it inside of me You could've been honest, you made it a promise, broke that, I know that you lied to me A-Ain't even tell me that you was detached from me, you just le ft and ain't try with me I'm about to just blow up the phone til she answer again, I jus t got to get through to you The way you move on so fast, I could tell that you did this bef ore, it's not new to you (Hello, what did I do to you?) (Stop c alling my phone, want nothing to do with you) Damn, I miss all the times I was thinkin' we good, I was thinki n' I was cool with you, fuck it This is the last time calling your phone, I get tired of callin g restrict I'll be lying if I say you a bitch, I ain't missing the fake lo ve, got me all fucked up and twisted There's some shit that I never predicted, you already shifted w hen I think we committed I can admit it, I wish that you never existed, I wish I just li nk to the head and then quit it I saw in the comments a girl made a point, cuz she thought that she know what we went through Don't judge a book by a cover or love by a love, you don't know what we been through Like, she had me losing my mental, she holding the way how she feel confidential
You tryna to lie like you told me already, I don't know where t hat message was sent to Time go by, I look on your page and see all the shit that you p osting
G-got a new boyfriend, wow, this was the reason you did all tha t ghosting
I was already knowing, it's who you was leaving me for the whol e time you was going I-it's okay, I'm ending this book about us, now this chapter is
