Ella

M. Ward

For you, I have traveled far and wide
For to hear your lullaby, hey rock-a-bye

And if you can't keep an eye on
At least just leave a light on for me

And I chose a star be my guide
Chose the moon be my bride and never die

And if you can't keep an eye on
At least just leave a light on for me

We are all tireless fighters
But we cannot make it on our own
We are all bareback riders
We are lost on our way back home

And if you can't keep an eye on
At least just leave a light on for me
