

& That's Alright

Mac Ayres

Oh, they told me I was something
I believed them
Oh, they told me I was nothing
Should've believed them

Even the stars in the skies know better
Hope I could break this weather
It's easier said than done
Even the thoughts that I feel in the nighttime
They always subside
They just needed a reason why

And that's alright (That's alright, it's alright)
That's alright (That's alright, it's alright)
That's alright (That's alright, it's alright)
I'm thinkin' it's alright (That's alright, it's alright)
Alright (That's alright, it's alright)
(That's alright, it's alright)
(That's alright, it's alright)
Alright, alright

That's alright, it's alright (Yeah, yeah)
That's alright, it's alright
That's alright, it's alright

That's alright, it's alright (Yeah, yeah)
That's alright, it's alright (I hope it was worth it all)
That's alright, it's alright
That's alright, that's alright

That's alright, it's alright (Yeah, yeah)
That's alright, it's alright (I hope it was worth it all)
That's alright, it's alright
That's alright, that's alright

That's alright, it's alright (Yeah, yeah)
That's alright, it's alright (I hope it was worth it all)
That's alright, it's alright
That's alright, that's alright

That's alright, it's alright (Yeah, yeah)
That's alright, it's alright (I hope it was worth it all)
That's alright, it's alright
That's alright, that's alright

I hope it was worth it all
I hope it was worth it all
