

Brand New

Mac Ayres

And, oh
So much for what we knew
The guns that we're sticking to
Have none left to fire

And, oh
No one to tell us when
When it comes around again
It's always on time

But did you see the sky fall?
Did you see the world that's been calling for you?
Did you hear the birds sing?
Were you loving all the things that you do?

They say, oh I know what they say
They tell me this too shall pass
But if things oh they never last
I guess I'm starting brand new
I'll be starting brand new
