Everything Changes

Mac Ayres

Oh, I never had enough
Never had enough control
Had enough control

Oh, as much as I hope nobody feels this way
I hope somebody out there feels the same
Yeah, yeah
You had enough of all these feelings lately
If you bring the rum, I'll bring the 3.5 sack
At least it's enough to feel a little on track, yeah
Looks like I'm not the only one that's faking it

Tell me why
Why'd you wanna let things go so bad, baby
Why?
Told me "Give it a day and you won't feel so sad"
Why?

Why'd you wanna go home so bad now, baby
Why?
Gonna sleep through the day and wake up just as mad about the fact

That everything changes
Said I finally know what I didn't before
No matter what you say, yeah
No matter what you say, nothin' ever is the same, oh
Everything changes
Said I finally know what's been bothering me so long
Oh, I never had enough control

And everything changes
Said I finally know what I didn't before
No matter what you say, yeah
No matter what you say, nothin' ever is the same, oh
Everything changes
Said I finally know what's been bothering me so long
Oh, I never had enough
Now I had enough control
Had enough control

Is anybody out there tonight?
Anybody just say that it's alright
Is anybody out there tonight?
Just say it's alright

Is anybody out there tonight?
Anybody just say that it's alright
Is anybody out there tonight?
Just say it's alright

That everything changes
Said I finally know what I didn't before
No matter what you say, yeah
No matter what you say, it never is the same, oh
Everything changes
Said I finally know what's been bothering me so long
Oh, I never had enough control

And everything changes
Said I finally know what I didn't before
No matter what you say, yeah
No matter what you say, it never is the same, oh
Everything changes
Said I finally know what's been bothering me so long
Oh, I never had enough
Never had enough control
