

Sometimes

Mac Ayres

Blame it on a case of my withdrawal
Either way I put you through it all
Said I know that I've been good, babe
But I just could not recall
Well sometimes I still hope you call

Said I caught myself
Staring at the wall
And I can't help to sink just below it all
Said I'm six feet underneath but somehow twenty feet tall
But sometimes I still feel so small

Oh now baby well sometimes
I just feel
Sometimes I just feel so small
Baby now sometimes
I just feel
I just feel so small

Used to say I've seen it all before
Tried to ride the wind and flew too far
Even when the world is ending and the sky begins to fall
Well sometimes I still hope you call
Sometimes I still hope you call
Sometimes I still hope you call