

K

Mac DeMarco

Has the years blown by, baby?
The more I come to know myself
The more it seems my love grows for you
You sure that I'd be dead, baby
Had I gone with someone else
For this and more, my love sold to you

K, anytime it feels as though my love has gone away
K, settle down, turn around, and take this song, and let it play

Got to know your heart, baby
Still so much for me to learn
And as I do, my love stays with you
You sure that I'd be done, baby
Had I made another turn
Glad the turn that I made was you

K, anytime it feels as though my love has gone away
K, settle down, turn around, and take this song, and let it play

K, anytime it feels as though my love has gone away
K, settle down, turn around, and take this song, and let it play
