

Everything's All Right (Distant Observation)

Mac McAnally

There were three wise guys sitting at a table
They're talking politics and drinking beer
They philosophize as well as they were able
I was alone, I couldn't help but hear

We could lose the war, the profit from the battle
Rich old men be singing over there
We heated up like so many cattle
Heads to the ground and our tails in the air

Everything's all right if you believe it
Brother, I've got a deal for you
Everything's all right if you believe it
If you believe it

Got the rednecks and rambos talking ammunition
So many targets, so little time
And the missionary takes the missionary position
Hands on the native gonna look so fine

Everything's all right if you believe it
Brother, I've got a deal for you
Everything's all right if you believe it
If you believe

Got the star wars, carnivores balancing the budget
Everything's a winner and the check's in the mail
We need a button even if we don't touch it
And maybe some Christmas it'll be on sale

Everything's all right if you believe it
Brother, I've got a deal for you
Everything's all right if you believe
If you believe it

Everything's all right if you believe it
Brother, I've got a deal for you
Everything's all right if you believe
If you believe it

Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right

You know that everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right

Everything's all right
