

Laser Speed Force

Machinae Supremacy

Strap down and dig your heels in Prepare to kill them all You'll pull the trigger when it's due

We need to silence all and any doubt among us all So that we can do what we need to Eight tons of armored steel and any weapon you will need Now is the time to prove that you are elite Sun blazing in your back, defolding space as you attack Skull fighters on your wing now we react

Her song leaves the other side in flight for their lives now they are not long for this world
No one leaves, line up for inevitable wipeout all you've done
now it's what you deserve

Split second call, heat seeker
One more goes up in flames
A million lights across your view

You have to prove your own worth to friend and foe alike
This weak display just will not do

They know you from afar to be the weakest of them all but that will change when you still stand as they fall