

Lady

I just met you, I don't know your name
Saved you from a taxi in the rain
You're so rude but I'll hold my complaints
You might be dumb, but let me explain

Sweet Coraline

I'm hanging by a thread
I can't let go of things that you said
Sweet Coraline
I'm hanging by a thread
You're never gonna see me again

Lately

People talk like I don't have a brain
But both my ears hear all the words you're saying
When you're out with your friends at the bar
And you act like you aren't who you actually are
And you're drunk and there's one me, but you see three more
Can you count? Huh, fuck you, three, four

Sweet Coraline

I'm hanging by a thread
I can't let go of things that you said
Sweet Coraline
I'm hanging by a thread
You're never gonna see me again

Looking for an exit, okay, let's go

I can see your silhouette through the window
Splash my boots in a puddle of mud
What's a good night if you killed the buzz?

Looking for an exit, okay, let's go

I can see your silhouette through the window
Splash my boots in a puddle of mud
What's a good night if you killed the buzz?

Sweet Coraline

I'm hanging by a thread
I can't let go of things that you said
Sweet Coraline
I'm hanging by a thread
You're never gonna see me again

Lady

I just met you, I don't know your name
Nice to meet you, but was it nice though?
Lady
I thought the song was still going
That's hilarious, oh, okay