Machine Head

I'll keep standing on the outside
You made your bed and now the walls are closing in
You sold your soul and now you want mine
Tragic disaster and it's all so sickening
Here on the outside looking in

Let the new era begin
The dawn of the deadliest sin
To sever the ties of our kin
Cutting you off at the limb
Amputated just to feel whole again

Frozen your soul
Darker than coal

All the lying, all the cheating
All you left me was defeated
There could never be forgiveness in the end

So I'll keep standing on the outside
You made your bed and now the walls are closing in
You sold your soul and now you want mine
Tragic disaster and it's all so sickening
Here on the outside looking in

These are the words of a fool
Guzzling hatred as fuel
A heart you left broken in two
Over and over again
The cycle repeats like a funeral hymn

Deep in my bones
Harder than stone

All the money, all the power
Fame and fortune left devoured
Only now you want to try and make amends

So I'll keep standing on the outside
You made your bed and now the walls are closing in
You sold your soul and now you want mine
Tragic disaster and it's all so sickening

Hope you remember how you hung me out to dry
You might deny it but you're burning up inside
So I'll keep standing on the outside
Tragic disaster and it's also sickening
Here on the outside looking in

It's all so sickening
It's all so sickening
Sickening me to the core
Sickening me to the core
Sickening me to the core
Sickening me to the core

So I'll keep standing on the outside

You made your bed and now the walls are closing in
You sold your soul and now you want mine
Tragic disaster and it's all so sickening

So I'll keep standing on the outside
You made your bed and now the walls are closing in
You sold your soul and now you want mine
Tragic disaster and it's all so sickening

Here on the outside looking in
Here on the outside looking in

Here on the outside looking in
