

Sometimes I want to go walking in the wheat
Take in the country side like a golden dream
But I'm reminded
When I see your face
It ain't my time to sleep

Sometimes I feel like no one would ever hear me leave
Slip out the door into the night where angels sing
But I'm reminded
When I feel your skin, there's so much life to live

Ohh, the setting sun
Not a whispered wind
The silence is golden
Ohh, like honey sweet
This is where I'll be
When I go walking
Walking in the wheat

Sometimes I want to go walking in the wheat
But I can fight it 'long as you stay next to me
You let the light in
You chase the night away, you bring the sun to me

Sometimes my mind is full of thoughts all mean to me
Sometimes I wish I'd stay asleep and always dream
But I'm reminded
With a morning kiss, I'm not alone in this

Ohh, the setting sun
Not a whispered wind
The silence is golden
Ohh, like honey sweet
This is where I'll be
When I go walking
Walking in the wheat

Ohh, the setting sun
Not a whispered wind
The silence is golden
Ohh, like honey sweet
This is where I'll be
When I go walking
Walking in the wheat...
