

Jesus, I'm Jealous

Mackenzie Carpenter

Is it okay to pray at a bar?
I know I probably shouldn't be here
Watchin' people fall in love
And orderin' another beer
Look at her laughin' and dancin'
Look at him holdin' her hand
I should find it in my heart to be happy

But, Jesus, I'm jealous, just had to tell you
Watchin' the two of 'em head over heels
I guess I was hopin' I wouldn't be lonely
And maybe by now I would know how that feels
He's spinnin' her 'round like she's Cinderella
I shouldn't be starin', but hell, I can't help it
Jesus, I'm jealous

I don't even know who they are
They coulda just met tonight
I probably shouldn't care so much
Maybe it's a matter of time
'Fore I find whatever they got
Love is patient, but I'm not
I know I oughta be, so shame on me

But, Jesus, I'm jealous, just had to tell you
Watchin' the two of 'em head over heels
I guess I was hopin' I wouldn't be lonely
And maybe by now I would know how that feels
He's spinnin' her 'round like she's Cinderella
I shouldn't be starin', but hell, I can't help it
Jesus, I'm jealous
Jesus, I'm jealous

I know you have a plan and it'll all work out someday
But tonight, it feels so far away

Jesus, I'm jealous, just had to tell you
Watchin' the two of 'em head over heels
I guess I was hopin' I wouldn't be lonely
And maybe by now I would know how that feels
He's spinnin' her 'round like she's Cinderella
I shouldn't be starin', but hell, I can't help it
Jesus, I'm jealous
Jesus, I'm jealous
