

HOT

Mackenzie Ziegler

Should've listened to my friends
They saw something I didn't
Should've seen it, but your kiss
It broke my intuition

You look so good
But looks can be deceiving
You lie so well
I almost believed it

You think I'd stay for your face
My heart was never that vain
Thought you're worth my time and space
Used your beauty like it's currency
What's inside is such a shame
Was it me or was it the game?
Don't know who you think you are to act so cold

Just because you're hot
Just because you're hot, hot

Fights you started ended up with me apologizing
And you'll tell everyone we broke up just because of timing

You look so good
But looks can be deceiving
You lie so well
I almost believed it

You think I'd stay for your face
My heart was never that vain
Thought you're worth my time and space
Used your beauty like it's currency
What's inside is such a shame
Was it me or was it the game?
Don't know who you think you are to act so cold

Just because you're hot
Just because you're hot, hot

I know I'm better off right here by myself
So save your smile for someone else

You think I'd stay for your face
My heart was never that vain
Thought you're worth my time and space
Used your beauty like it's currency
What's inside is such a shame
Was it me or was it the game?
Don't know who you think you are to act so cold

Just because you're hot
Oh, just because you're hot, hot
(Ah, ah)
