

I was in silence laying down the hall
Woken up by the violent heat
I couldn't stop it, I wish you'd watched it
Triple in size right from the street

I was inside there waiting on your call
All of your thoughts right out of reach
I couldn't ask it, I didn't wanna
Keep you in mind and wait to see

Eyes glued to the ground
Always looking down
Never seemed to care what you're missing
But you're peaking now
Darkness all drowned out
I'd take my life just to know what you're thinking
