

But He Loves Me

Macy Gray

He calls me baby, calls me beautiful
And the way he smiles it makes me sway
Saturday he's full of alcohol and he says
The things he really wants to say

And it hurts so bad how he treats me, I should be movin'
All the scars I've had, how he treats me, I should be movin'

But he loves me, he loves me
Ask me how I know
That he loves me, he loves me
He tells me so
Sometimes I break down and cry in the night
But he loves me, he loves me

All my friends are here to take my side
Givin' me advice and callin' me a fool
It's not that simple, it's not black and white
When all I am is the color blue

And it hurts so bad how he treats me, I should be movin'
All the scars I've had how he treats me, I should be movin'

But he loves me, he loves me
Ask me how I know
Yeah he loves me, he loves me
He tells me so
Sometimes I break down and cry in the night
But he loves me, he loves me

He's an angel, he's my heaven every once
In a while now, in a while now
It's like paradise, it's like I can fly
But it's been a while now, a while

Sometimes I break down and cry
But he loves me, he loves me
He told me so

And it hurts so bad how he treats me
I should be movin' now
I should be movin' now
But you see
But he loves me
