

Everybody wants to be
Part of that old regime
I get it, I felt that same way too
But here's my point of view
Who the fuck cares?
More importantly who's still here
The proof's all around you
Respect the old but break new ground too

The true school
The true school
The true school
Respect the old ways but it's a new day
There's one school
Give respect where it's due

I remember when I found you
Brought to life by the sounds of disgrace
A lost kid with a chip on my shoulder
No direction, I had no peace
You taught me, you schooled me
To keep my mind sharp, live at my own pace
I give respect to those who built this
And the new kids that remind me what this means

The true school
The true school
The true school
Respect the old ways but it's a new day
There's one school
Show respect to the ones that see it through

There's just one
There's just one
There's just one
The true school

There's just one
There's just one
There's just one
There's one school
The true school
