

Hard Too Read

Madcon

I've been trying to talk to you, but you won't listen

What it is, what it do

Let me spit something to you

What we have is a lot, and we knew it but we liked it

Besides it was bound to fall apart in time

So let it wither while we dyin' starin' into eachothers eyes

Pretend, that's fine with me, no offense

But time will heal, let me try atleast

I'm on hands with this shit and your constant bitching give me migraine

I'm tryin' to get out of here but can't

Let another man get down with sweetness, nah

You too fine for that, yo

And you notice, I'm looking at her motherfucking Cause that body you get,

You're so hard to read

Oh wow

Can't understand a word of what it mean

No no

You're so hard to read, to me, can't understand a word you speak

You're so hard to read baby, can't say the words I wanna hear

You make hurt inside that's why you got to leave

Don't want to waste my time and we can't seem to find a way out this rhytm

I tried but you didn't, hard to read

I stepped up, not for you one to talk

So I wrote down these words, I'll tell 'em if you walk with me

I hate it when we part ways, something like a dark age

I just want you to find a spark with me

Like, I just start to stutter, I'm letting down my guard

I'm hard, but I'm butter

Why won't you talk to a brother, let go's

Like everytime you I'm giving you my hand, you get cold

If I'm the car, you're the petrol

But everytime we talk it's like I'm slippin' on wet floor

I'm trynna correct wrongs, girl you a part of me

You my heart why you so fucking hard to read?

I can't say that we actually have fun

We never had a moment of clarity, we was that drunk

Whenever you started shit I had to laugh

Cause ain't nobody talking to me, I'm out that door

You hard to read, and that's so

We never matched so ain't a damn thing we can do

It was in-fucking-avoidable, but'a, it was in-fucking-credible

Baby don't preach, but I confess to you in need

I had to leave, cause you weren't ready for me

Anyway

I know we had a good run though

And I hate it when the good get done, but'a

Anyway

I'm thinking it's best we part ways, I been trynna tell you, but
