

Broken

Madeline Juno

When the bone breaks, such a sad sound
When the undertow is pulling me down
When the night falls with no end in sight
And you're not here with me, the lonely doesn't lie
The lonely doesn't lie

So please break me, break me
Please just break me now

We get stronger in the places we're broken
Like watching my life in slow motion
A heart closing is a heart still open
We get stronger in the places we're broken
Broken, broken, broken

Now we're fading, so turn the song off
I need to be alone with everything I lost
Yeah, it's funny how you make me feel so tall
Did you build me up just to watch me fall?
Just to watch me fall

We get stronger in the places we're broken
Like watching my life in slow motion
A heart closing is a heart still open
We get stronger in the places we're broken
Broken, broken, broken

So please break me, break me
Please just break me now

We get stronger in the places we're broken
Like watching my life in slow motion
A heart closing is a heart still open
We get stronger in the places we're broken
We get stronger in the places we're broken
Like watching my life in slow motion
A heart closing is a heart still open
We get stronger in the places we're broken
Broken, broken, broken, broken, broken
