

The Unknown

Madeline Juno

Breathe in, take a next step, I won't hold you back
You ain't got nothing to lose anymore
I know it's hard to find a light in the dark
When you can't even see the stars

God only knows what you're fighting for Just don't give in

'Cause I know you can resist if you want
I'll be right here, right here
In time you'll see where you're meant to be
And I'll follow you into the unknown, into the unknown

Hold on to this world keep your feet upon the ground
'Cause baby, heaven can wait
Of all the things you've lost, you miss your heart the most
And you can barely see that

You're the only one to know which way to go
I'll run along with you

'Cause I know you can resist if you want
In time you'll see where you're meant to be
And I'll follow you

As the fog clears your blinded eyes can see
You're weightless, no more apathy
And I can feel your heartbeat, your heartbeat

'Cause I know you can resist if you want
I'll be right here, right here by your side
In time, you'll see where you're meant to be
And I'll follow you

You, you, I will follow you
Into the unknown
You, you, I will follow you
Into the unknown
