

Dear Me

Madeline Merlo

Hey
Don't forget you've got your mothers eyes
They give all of your emotions away
Don't forget to not apologize, when it ain't your fault anyway

Hey
And a little self-sabotage
Is natural in every way
But don't forget that you're a total babe, and everything is gonna be okay
Okay

(Dear me)
When you're down you stand up taller
Don't forget to drink your water
You're smart as hell, you're your father's daughter
Oh, don't you forget it
(Dear me)
We both know that you're not flawless
That don't mean you ain't a goddess
If you still don't believe you better re-read

Dear me
Don't compare yourself to nobody else
The mirror's not your enemy
You can make anything happen for yourself, with a little positivity

Dear me
Stop wasting so much energy
Living in doubt, worrying about anxiety
How you're gonna fit in those jeans, if you wanna fit into society

(Dear me)
When you're down you stand up taller
Don't forget to drink your water
You're smart as hell, you're your father's daughter
Oh, don't you forget it
(Dear me)
We both know that you're not flawless
That don't mean you ain't a goddess
If you still don't believe you better re-read

Dear me
Keep your money right
Your friends tight
Keep your head high
Be who you wanna be
Don't forget to breathe

(Dear me)
When you're down you stand up taller
Don't forget to drink your water
You're smart as hell, you're your father's daughter
Oh, don't you forget it
(Dear me)
We both know that you're not flawless
That don't mean you ain't a goddess
If you still don't believe you better re-read

Dear me
Dear me
Dear me
