

The Great Divide

Madina Lake

I wish I had something to say
I wish I had someone to say something to
Who understands what I've been through
I wish I wasn't paranoid
I wish that I could trust everyone I want to
But I guess I love a bunch of fools
I wish I had somewhere to go
I wish there was a place without spies in disguises
And invisible reminders of you, you
It feels like all the galaxies colliding into us, us
I wish that I had a friend in me, for once

I miss you bad (I miss you bad)
I need you back (I need you back)
I can't live and I can't breathe
When all I've got is me for once
