Madison Beer

Seventeen, I can't recall a thing
A cry for help, but no one's ever listenin'
My life moved faster than the speed of sound
Wish I could go there now
And slow down

Ain't it strange, how people tend to change?
I hope she knows that I would never blame her
'Cause all she did was all she knew (Aah)

Oh, is it too late now, to slow down?

All my life I've never had the chance
To stop and smell the flowers (Flowers)
All this time, I never got to sit
And dream away the hours

My memories, like black and white TV
And everybody says it'll be okay
Like life is just a game
But I don't wanna play

Twenty one, it should've been so fun
Cherry red, I wish I had more time
Saw my skin, it fades too quick somehow (Aah)

Oh, is it too late now, to slow down?

All my life I've never had the chance (All my life)
To stop and smell the flowers (Flowers)
All this time, I never got to sit
And dream away the hours

My memories, like black and white TV
And everybody says it'll be okay
Like life is just a game
But I don't wanna play

Ooh, oh-oh
Ooh, ooh, ooh
I don't wanna
Ooh, ooh, ooh
I don't wanna
