

Prodigal

Madison Ryann Ward

Even if I run away
Even if I've fallen on my face
You will prepare a place for me
Waiting on my full return to Thee
Kiss away my brokenness
Cure me from this hopeless heart, I know
You are the lover of my soul
I'm coming home

Your love is meeting me where I need it
Most, I don't need to hide
Truth for the keeping, Your Word, You mean it
My God, You've never lied

Even if I run away
Even if I've fallen on my face
You will prepare a place for me
Waiting on my full return to Thee

Your love is meeting (Yeah), me where I need it
Most, I don't need to hide
Ain't gotta hide, ain't gotta hide, uh
Truth for the keeping, Your Word, You mean it
My God, You've never lied
(Yeah, uh, You never lie, You never lie, uh)

Your love is meeting me, right where I am, no need to keep my problems to my self
That might sound strong, but Lord it's hell
If I'm not living with You, You're the only thing that's true
You come the second that I make a move in Your direction, Your perfection

Is my protection, I'm safe with Ya
I'm sorry for all the times that I played with Ya
Thought that I could be good without God, that's way extra
So now I stay, confessing that my successes came straight from Heaven
This world is way too messy, and we the ones who messed up
But Yeshua made us new, I gotta sing, I'm blessed up
With a love that is realer than I ever imagined
So I'll keep walking with Him, I ain't going backwards

Your love is meeting me where I need it
Most, I don't need to hide
Ain't gotta hide, ain't gotta hide, uh
Truth for the keeping, Your Word, You mean it
My God, You've never lied (No)

My only purpose (In this)
Life that I'm living (That I'm living)
Knowing to love You more (You more)
You are my heartbeat (My heartbeat)
Lifeflood within me (Within me)
Home here within Your arms
