

The Same

Madison Ryann Ward

The weight of the world is falling on my back
Even though you told me I'm not built for that I'm always miles from home when you call my name
But I still know you love me just the same

You can see that I am hurting
And you can see that I'm afraid
Help me walk away from the things I cannot change
And know that you still love me just the same

How in the storm am I supposed to sleep (Oh)
How can I let go when I'm trembling
Though I don't know the reason for this pain
Still I know you love me just the same (Woah)

You can see that I am hurting (You can see, you can see)
And you can see that I'm afraid (I'm afraid)
So help me walk away from the things I cannot change (I cannot change)
And know that you still love me just the same (Just the same)
And know that you still love me just the same

You know what it's like to lie awake from what you've seen
You know what it's like to not wanna die with thieves
You took the weight of every fight, it brought you to your knees
And I know that you did it all for me (I know, I know, I know)
I know that you did it all for me (I know, I know, I know)
Oh I know that you did it all for me (Oh)

So even when you see me hurting
And even when I am afraid
I can walk away from the things I cannot change
And know that you still love me just the same
And know that you still love me just the same
And know that you still love me just the same
