

Crying Shame

Madness

I cried all night just thinking of you
I wonder now what I'm going to do
Since you left me for that friend of mine
Every second is just crying time
I cry cos my heart is in pain
I cry though I know its in vain
But knowing this I cry all the same
I wake at night Crying out your name

You said that you'd never leave
I never listened that you were a tease
People talk about me behind my back
They don't understand its the passion they lack

People go around and whisper my name
They think its a laugh because I never complain
But to my face they are always the same
They don't understand its a crying shame

You always said that you needed me,
Exactly what for I find it hard to see

I've sat up all night wishing you were still mine
Now I understand there's better things to do with my Time

I cry cos my heart is in pain
I cry though I know its in vain
But knowing this I cry all the same
I wake at night Crying out your name

I cry each night with tears in my eyes
I cant believe you are telling me lies
People go around whispering my name
Don't they know its a crying Shame

I cry cos my heart is in pain
I cry though I know its in vain
But knowing this I cry all the same
I wake at night Crying out your name
