

Help Yourself To Me

Madrugada

Wake me up instead
When your head is full of thunder
Your radiance dead
I don't know what pulls you under

Why you're looking at your telephone
Why this loneliness comes to our home
I'll be coming from the land of my dreams
When it's time for you to join me, baby

Through the darkness and the pleasure
I love you beyond measure
Just tell me what you need
When the weakness is unholy
It's true, I love you only
Just help yourself to me
Baby, help yourself to me

Any time of day
Your conversation's fine and pointed
You always get your way, babe
But is that how you want it?

Quit your thinking, your enemy is mine
We both got our little blind spots inside
I'll be coming from the land of my dreams
When it's time for you to join me, baby

Through the darkness and the pleasure
I love you beyond measure
Just tell me what you need
When the weakness is unholy
It's true, I love you only
Just help yourself to me
Baby, help yourself to me

Through the darkness and the pleasure
I love you beyond measure
Just tell me what you need
When the weakness is unholy
It's true, I love you only
Just help yourself to me
Baby, help yourself to me

Through the darkness and the pleasure
I love you beyond measure
Just tell me what you need
When the weakness is unholy
Let your tears just rain down on me
Just help yourself to me
Baby, help yourself to me
