

Afterglow

Mads Langer

I don't need another day
No more words are left to say
You can come undone and lay with me
In the darkness we'll be free

Counting every single hour
Give me reason I can stay

It's been a long year, I know
But I'm still bathing in your summers afterglow
You don't belong here, I know
I will still see your shadows everywhere I go

Let me hide your sins away
They always led my heart astray
Broken dreams or just a memory
I know you are who you'll always be

Counting every single hour
Give me reason I can stay

It's been a long year, I know
But I'm still bathing in your summers afterglow
You don't belong here, I know
I will still see your shadows everywhere I go
Everywhere I go

Never true, always the same
Always hurt, never to blame and I kill this love over and over again
Never apart, never ago, never lie and always Fear is the drug I will take through the nights spent with you

It's been a long year, I know
But I'm still bathing in your summers afterglow
You don't belong here, I know
I will still see your shadows everywhere I go
It's been a long year, I know
But I'm still bathing in your summers afterglow
You don't belong here, I know
I will still see your shadows everywhere I go
Everywhere I go
